

Martek Global Services, Inc. ("Martek") is a Professional Services company headquartered in Bethesda, Maryland with an additional office in Huntsville, Alabama allowing us to be strategically structured to reinforce our nationwide support services. For nearly two decades our experience and dedication to customer service has been unparalleled as we continue to service many of our original customers from 20 years ago. From the beginning, Martek has established a solid reputation by seamlessly delivering solutions that have consistently exceeded both our commercial and government customers' expectations.

We are partnering with Island Creek Associates, a Maryland-based, 8(a), woman-owned small business focused on providing professional services to the Department of Defense and other Government customers on this position.

Duties and Responsibilities: The candidate role is to assist NAVFAC WASH with performance of fire protection engineering support from project inception through construction. The candidate shall be familiar with both Design-Bid-Build and Design-Build delivery methods for projects and able to provide technical leadership/mentorship to junior engineers/designers and to review other fire protection engineers' work for code compliance and constructability. Should have the ability to estimate design effort and assist in negotiations with Architectural-Engineering firms and General Contractors. The candidate shall be able to address contractor submittals and requests for information (RFI's).

Location: Indian Head, MD

Education: Bachelor Degree in Fire Protection Engineering from an accredited college or university. Professional registration as a Licensed Fire Protection Engineer in a state or territory within the United States is required.

And

Experience: A minimum of Five (5) years of specialized experience in fire protection design and evaluation of new and existing facilities. Should be competent to develop complete construction documents, including drawings and specifications, for new and renovation projects.

Five (5) or more years of experience as a fire protection engineer facility designer for new and existing buildings; Experience with the full gambit of Fire Protection responsibilities, to include fire alarm and detection, water based suppression systems, foam systems, clean agent systems, kitchen protection, special hazard design, fire resistant construction, occupancy and egress requirements, water supply and storage, system maintenance requirements, and smoke management systems;

Should have extensive knowledge of NFPA, ICC, and UFC codes; Ability to use AutoCAD and other design software; Experience in Construction Management/Scheduling and Cost-estimating; Experience with field inspections and review of installed components; Ability to prepare and provide high-level briefs to senior leadership. Oral and written communication skills must be highly developed.

Security Clearance: Must be able to able to receive a SECRET security clearance within 30 days of hire; current SECRET security clearance preferred.

We are an equal opportunity employer and offer a full benefits package and competitive salary to successful candidates. If you meet these requirements, please send your resume and salary expectations to mpowell@martekglobal.com